

JAMES FEDOS – MEDIA KIT

Words that endure. Stories that move.

Historical Thriller Author
Actor
Coast Guard Veteran

James Fedos writes historical thrillers that combine meticulous historical research, cinematic storytelling, and the moral complexity of history's defining moments. Drawing on a career in military service, federal leadership, acting, and strategic writing, his work transports readers into worlds where history is not simply remembered—it is lived.

Website: <https://jamesfedos.com>
Email: James.P.Fedos1138@gmail.com

Professional Biography

James Fedos is a Filipino-American historical thriller author, actor, Coast Guard veteran, and strategic ghostwriter whose career bridges public service, performance, and storytelling. His fiction is known for combining meticulous historical research with cinematic pacing, placing readers inside history's defining moments through morally complex characters and richly authentic settings.

Before becoming a full-time author, Fedos served in the United States Coast Guard and went on to spend more than two decades supporting national security and federal acquisition programs. That background instilled the discipline, attention to detail, and operational realism that have become hallmarks of his writing.

His published novels include No Safe Landing, Abort Condition, and The City That Couldn't Sleep, with additional works exploring medieval England, Renaissance Italy, piracy, espionage, and the remarkable historical figure Abbé Faria. Across every project, his goal remains the same: to tell stories that entertain while inspiring readers to explore the real history behind the fiction.

Alongside his literary career, Fedos has appeared in film and television productions, bringing firsthand experience with visual storytelling that influences the structure, dialogue, and cinematic scope of his novels. Whether discussing historical research, the craft of writing, military service, or adapting fiction for the screen, he offers audiences a perspective shaped by experience, curiosity, and a lifelong passion for history.

Author at a Glance

- Name: James Fedos
- Genre: Historical Thrillers | Historical Adventure | Political Thrillers
- Nationality: Filipino-American
- Representation: Independent
- Military Service: United States Coast Guard Veteran
- Profession: Historical Thriller Author | Actor | Strategic Ghostwriter | Federal Program Executive
- Specialties: Historical Thrillers | Historical Adventure | Political Thrillers
- Website: <https://jamesfedos.com>
- IMDb: <https://www.imdb.com/name/nm7944511/>

Published Books

No Safe Landing

Genre: Aviation Thriller

ISBN-13: 9798233014758

Aviation has long captured James Fedos's imagination—not simply as technology, but as a setting where ordinary people are forced to make extraordinary decisions under impossible circumstances. No Safe Landing combines that fascination with his experience in high-stakes government environments to deliver a thriller driven by realism, tension, and the human cost of crisis.

Abort Condition

Genre: Political Thriller

ISBN-13: 9798233232466

Drawing upon his background in national security and federal service, James Fedos wrote Abort Condition to explore the consequences of political decisions made under extraordinary pressure. Rather than focusing solely on action, the novel examines leadership, duty, and the human impact of crises unfolding at the highest levels of government.

The City That Couldn't Sleep

Genre: Historical Thriller

ISBN-13: 9798233039706

Inspired by the hidden histories that shape great cities, The City That Couldn't Sleep reflects James Fedos's passion for uncovering overlooked moments of the past and transforming them into compelling fiction. Through mystery, history, and suspense, the novel invites readers to discover how the echoes of history continue to influence the present.

Works in Development

Ashes of Sherwood

Historical Thriller / Historical Drama

A bold reimagining of the legend before the legend, Ashes of Sherwood tells the origin story of Kaelen, the man destined to become the Sheriff of Nottingham. Rather than retelling the familiar tale of Robin Hood, the novel explores how ambition, duty, betrayal, and impossible choices transform an honorable young man into one of literature's most enduring villains. Rich in historical detail and cinematic scope, the story is designed as a character-driven historical drama with the scale and intensity of prestige television.

The Last Mapmaker of Constantinople

Historical Thriller

Set during the final days of the Byzantine Empire, The Last Mapmaker of Constantinople is an epic historical thriller about knowledge, legacy, and survival at the edge of civilization. As Constantinople faces its final siege, one man's mission to preserve the world's accumulated knowledge becomes a race against time, where the fate of history may rest not on armies, but on ideas.

The Treasure of Spada

Historical Adventure

Inspired by the enduring mysteries surrounding Abbé Faria and the legends that inspired generations of adventure fiction, The Treasure of Spada is a sweeping historical saga of hidden wealth, forgotten secrets, and relentless pursuit. Blending meticulous historical research with high-stakes adventure, the novel follows characters whose search for the truth becomes as dangerous as the treasure itself.

The Mad Priest Saga

Historical Adventure Series

Spanning seven novels, The Mad Priest Saga reimagines the extraordinary life of the historical Abbé Faria—the scholar, revolutionary, and prisoner whose legacy inspired one of literature's greatest mentors in The Count of Monte Cristo. Combining documented history with sweeping adventure, the series explores a remarkable life shaped by revolution, imprisonment, faith, and the relentless pursuit of knowledge.

Selected Media & Appearances

- Featured Guest – Veterans Breakfast Club (VBC Connects), discussing military service, historical fiction, and writing.
- Featured Guest – Veterans Breakfast Club Coast Guard Livestream (August 2026).
- Professional acting credits available on IMDb.
- Additional interviews, podcasts, and speaking appearances available at JamesFedos.com.

Selected Interview Topics

- Historical research and bringing the past to life through fiction
- The journey from Coast Guard veteran to published author
- Building authentic thrillers from real-world experience
- Adapting novels for television and film
- The creative process behind writing historical fiction
- Why forgotten history still matters today
- Balancing careers in writing, acting, and federal service
- Independent publishing and building an author brand

Contact Information

Website: <https://jamesfedos.com>

Email: James.P.Fedos1138@gmail.com

IMDb: <https://www.imdb.com/name/nm7944511/>

Instagram: <https://www.instagram.com/jamespatrickhayes>

For interviews, speaking engagements, podcasts, media appearances, or publicity inquiries, please contact James through the email listed above.

Media Resources

- Official Website: JamesFedos.com
- Media Kit: Available for download at JamesFedos.com
- High-Resolution Author Photos: Available upon request
- Book Covers: Available upon request
- Interview Requests: James.P.Fedos1138@gmail.com

